11-Jan	THE SOUTH OF IRELAND TO THE END OF STEAM 1957-1963	Leslie McAllister	Leslie presents a selection of colour images taken by his friend, the late Lance King, Lance was a skilled photographer and left a fine record of steam in the Dublin area and on the fondly remembered branches such as Kenmare, Loughrea, Ballaghaderreen, Edenderry, Tullow, Clara, Banagher and Youghal. Steam & diesels in service on the Cork, Bandon & South coast railway feature, as does the memorable railtour with last 'Bandon' tank. Early days of silver and "black and tan" liveried diesels conclude the period."
25-Jan	ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING followed by CHANGE & VARIETY 1960s to 1990s	Wally Stamper	The first hour will be our usual AGM to bring you up to date and your chance to air your views.  A medley of scanned slides of the period showing a variety of content and location with many scenes that have now changed. Some you may have seen before; hopefully, they will still entertain. Others will be new to provide interest, trigger memories and invite comment.

Further organised trips include railways in Portugal. Full details will be in the newsletter.

28-Jun	WELSH HIGHLAND RAILWAY 'The Rebirth of a Railway'	Charles Clark	Charles tells how, as a teenager he stood with his father in the Aberglaslyn pass in North Wales and watched hikers walking up the disused trackbed that had once carried the Welsh Highland Railway. His father recalled how himself as a teenager, had stood on the same spot in the 1920s and watched trains working up the line. Little did either of them guess that today you can stand on the same spot and once again watch steam trains on the line. His talk today tells us how this came to be.
